J. P. MORGAN AND THE STOLEN WILL

Millionaire Holder of Document Still Averse to Restoring It.

CUVILLIER'S LETTER.

Former Alexandrian Cites Other Cases Where Property Stolen During Civil War Was Returned.

J. P. Morgan's refusal to surrender the will of Martha Washington, which was cut from a book in the court house at Fairfax by some vandal, during the civil war, is still a subject of comment and in some quarters exasperation. It is supposed the financier with his millions will set up a fierce fight against giving up the stolen property, but the Old Dominion is aroused and will remain in the ring.

One of the Richmond papers today contains a picture of the court house at Fairfax and one of the Morgan palace in New York. The humble structure at the county seat stands in marked contrast to that which the stolen will has been placed, but the former bears the look of continental honesty and was not erected by money acquired in stock juggling.

Louis A. Culivier, a native of this city, and now a member of the New York Assembly, in a letter to a New York newspaper says, among other things:

'As a native of Virginia I take a great interest in the recovery of the will of Martha Washington, now in the private collection of J. P. Morgan. It is unfortunate that Mr. Morgan is placed in the position of having in his possession the stolen official records of Fairfax county: according to the statutes of the State of Virginia, when a will is probated it becomes a part of the official record of the State.

"New York state has established similar precedents in similar cases. I recall the legislature of 1910 returning to the State of South Caroline two muster-rolls of the War of the Revolution that had been stolen from the State Library in South Carolina and that the State of New York purchased in good faith. The State Librarian the late Dr. Draper, refused to turn them over to South Carolina; hence a bill was introduced requesting the state of New York to return these muster-rolls to South Carolina. The contention of South Carolina was to the effect that these muster-rolls were stolen. The Legislature and the Governor of this State were unanimous that the State of New York did not want stolen articles in its possession.

"I can see no difference between the State of New York and one of its citizens in respect to stolen official documents of another state. In 1910 the legislature unanimously passed and the Governor signed a bill authorizing the adjutant-general of the State of New York to turn over to the Seventh Virginia regiment the Confederate flag of that regiment that was captured by the New York troops in Virginia during the civil war."

Negotiations between Attorney-Gen. Williams and Mrs. Helen Lossing Johnson of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., relative to the return to Virginia of certain documents, including letters written by George Washington and the Maruis deLafayette to the house of burgesses, which were removed by her father, Benson J. Lossing, the historian from the State library, soon after the close of the war between the states, have been concluded with the understanding that Vrginia may recover the documents on payment of $750.

This Mrs. Johnson claims, represents the sum she has expended on advertising the documents for sale and in the employment of a lawyer to carry on the negotiations with the Virginia officials after they learned that she had them in her possession. Mrs. Johnson at first held out for $4,000.

The settlement of this case is of interest just now because of its similarity to that of the Marth Washington will, stolen from among the Fairfax county records during the war and now in possession of J. P. Morgan.

In the Attorney-General's office in Richmond yesterday it was announced that the recommendation would be made that the $750 necessary to secure the return of the papers taken from the governor's contingency fund. Should that fund be found to have been exhausted, however, efforts to have the present general assembly appropriate the money for the return to the State will be made.

NEWS OF THE DAY

John Spooner, a nephew of former United States Senator John C. Spooner, of Madison, Wis., yesterday shot and killed Miss Emily McConnell, 35 years old, a Madison school teacher, and then turned the revolver on himself, inflicting what is believed to be a fatal wound. Spooner is 40 years old, married and has two children. He fired two shots at Miss McConnell, the girl dying instantly. He called Miss McConnell into the hallway of the school where she was teaching, and without engaging in conversation killed her. The cause the shooting is not known.

The United States Navy ranks third among the naval armaments of the world, according to the figures given in Pulsifer's Navy Year Book, published here yesterday as a Senate document. The rank is assigned to the United States both on the basis of the vessels completed and also including the vessels under construction. Great Britain ranks first with a total tonnage of 2,052,711; Germany, with 943,338 tons; the United States 760,002 tons; France, 645,891 tons; Japan, 497,199 tons; Russia, 283,681 tons; Italy, 259,1336 and Austria, 198,351 tons.

One of two women passengers carried yesterday at Los Angelec, Cal., by Glen Martin, an aviator, stepped from his machine when it was 850 feet in the air. She reached the ground safely, and demonstrated, to Martin's satisfaction, the practicability of a new aerial life preserver. Spectators saw the girl, Miss Piny Broadwick, fall 75 feet like a shot. Then a parachute attachment on her shoulders unfolded, and she descended gradually and with no apparent effort at balance.

Marie Koones, a 14-year old daughter of Samuel Koones, 1721 19th street, northwest, Washington, was almost instantly killed late yesterday afternoon, when she was struck by an automobile. The child was playing in front of her home.

While testifying yesterday at the inquest into the death of Carmelo Constraleos, of New York, whose body with a knife pinned into the breast was found at Park Avenue and Fourteenth street, on the night of December 29th, Mrs. Madeline Ferole broke down and confessed that she had committed the murder because Constraleos refused to marry her.

When the wholesale fruit depot of Ueter Maroulis, at Long Branch, N. J., remained closed yesterday, the attention of Policeman Henry K. Emmons was attracted by the small dealers who gathered about it. He made an investigation and came upon a triple tragedy. Maroulis and his two young nephews were dead in bed from inhaling gas. The coroner decided that the deaths were accidental.

Miss Agnes Brougham, 18 years old, stood helpless with fright early yesterday, while Hugh Mallory, her escort, from a dance, turned from her with the remark that he was "tired of life," carefully removed his outer clothing and jumped off the rail of a bridge to death in the Monongahela river at Pitsburgh.

VAGRANT HANGS SELF IN CELL.

Familiar Character of Frankford Makes Noose of His Belt When He Tires of Aimless Life.

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 10.—Committed for the seventeenth time, John Brown, 55 years old, a vagrant, ended his life yesterday by hanging himself in his cell in the House of Correction, Holmesburg. With his belt as a noose, his body was found hanging from the bars of the window by Harry L. Whitecamp, druggist of the institution. It is believed that the man became tired of his hopeless life.

COMMITTEE GIVES $80,000 INCREASE

Pensions For Public School Teachers Also to be Larger.

COST OF THE SYSTEM.

It is Believed That Higher Educational Institutions of State Will Not Receive Any Increase.

Richmond, Va, Jan. 10.—The appropriation bill to be introduced into the legislature soon after that body convenes here next Wednesday will grant an increase of $80,000 for the primary schools of the state, a 25 per cent increase for pensions and a five cent decrease on the tax rate, according to information gathered at the capitol yesterday afternoon.

It is also understod that the appropriation for the higher educational institutions of the state are being pared to a much smaller figure than they asked for, and that the increase in the amount appropriated for the use of the convict road gangs is being made.

Following the completion of the rough draft of the appropriations yesterday afternoon it was discovered that the total amount nearly reached the $7,000,000 mark.

The amount which the committee will appropriate is held to be about $6,800,00, and during the late afternoon and for a while at night the committee was busy at work cutting off hundreds of dollars from various appropriations to bring down the total.

The draft of the bill itself was gat into a semblance of form last night and the members of the committee hope that by tonight they will have completed their work, certainly all except the actual drafting of the bill. This will probably be done by Clerk Jeter with a special committee of the finance committee, immediately after.

Members of the legislature other than members of the finance committee, are already beginning to arrive in Richmond for the Democratic caucus, which will be held Tuesday night. The legislature convenes the following day.

The annual message of the Governor has been completed by the executive, and a portion of it is already in the hands of the public printer. The remainder will probably reach Superintendent Bottom this afternoon and the complete message will be ready in print for the lawmakers when they take their seats in the two houses on next Wednesday morning.

WANT NEARLY A MILLION.

New School Building For Richmond to Cost $452,000.

Richmond, Va., Jan. 10.—Members of the city school board appearing before the finance committee of the City Council last night at the budget hearing, asked for an appropriation of $961,265.04 for the operation and extension of the pubic school system during 1914. Of this amount $452,000 is wanted for the building of new schools and acquisition of building lots; the payrolls for $398,530.04; and the current expenses, including repairs, amount to $77,950. These are the largest items in the estimate of expenses.

The new items on the payroll, including teachers added to the staff and new departments of instruction, demand an apropriation of $13,672. The 1914 estimate of expenses shows an increase of $53,500 over last year. The installation of private fire alarms in several of the schools as ordered by the Board of Fire Commissioners wil lentail an expense of $3,935. The sum of $5,000 is asked to connect the lighting system of the John Marshall High School with the city electric plant, and $10,000 is wanted for free text books.

Five hundred thousand men, women and children are starving in the Balkans. Rev. Edward Havell, of the American mission declares that it is imperative that help come at once.

DISCUSS TAX REFORM.

Chamber of Commerce Entertains Legislators at Luncheon.

The luncheon given today at the Hotel Rammel by the Alexandria Chamber of Commerce, which was followed by an informal discussion of the tax laws of the state and a number of proposed changes was a very delightful affair and will result in a better understanding of the need of the state for tax reform. About fifty persons were present including a number of members of the state legislature from surrounding counties.

The guests met at the Hotel where a pleasant half hour was spent and were then ushered to the dining room on the second floor where an appetizing luncheon was served.

COUP DE GRACE OF REVENUE RAIDERS

Seize Registered Distillery After Arresting Five Moonshiners.

DEFIES THE OFFICERS.

Woman Balked Searchers by Sitting on Barrel of Brandy—Moved by Son's Tears.

Richmond, Va., Jan. 10.—As the final blow of the sweeping revenue raid made in Louisa county this week, Collector of Internal Revenue M. K. Lowry yesterday ordered the seizure of the registered brandy distillery of H. C. Foster, located near Buckners. As a result of the investigation which followed the finding of several barrels of untaxed brandy near the distillery, the revenue officers have arrested three men and two women, and are searching the countyside for two other suspected men. Collector Lowry has reason to believe from reports furnished him that untaxed brandy was distilled in Foster's plant.

For many years the revenue officers have suspected the Anthony family, who live near Buckner's, of being wholesale manufacturers of illicit brandy. Last week an old negro woman found a barrel of untaxed brandy hidden near her house.

Shortly afterward several members of the Anthony clan came to claim the barrel, and when the woman refused to give it up took it by force. She reported the occurence to officers and an investigation was immediately instituted.

On Monday morning Collector Lowry and Revenue Agent Chapman sent a force of ten officers into Louisa to round up all the suspected members of the Anthony clan at one time. One raiding squad went to T. N. Anthony's house, found two barrels of untaxed brandy and arrested Anthony and Henry T. Harris. Another squad descended upon the home of Sam Anthony at about the same hour, found incriminating evidences and arrested Lena Anthony, Martha Anthony, and Bernard Anthony. Still a third section descended upon a distillery to institute a search of the premises. The officers found that Foster had gone, and they have not been able to locate him.

The determination of a woman of the Anthony clan almost balked the efforts of a fourth squad that visited the home of Obie Anthony. On arriving at this house the officers at once began to search the premises for untaxed brandy. After some time they found a secret opening in the floor of the house and pulled up a barrel. Before they could examine the barrel for signs of a revenue stamp a woman who was watching the proceedings sat down upon the upturned barrel and refused to budge.

Having no authority to lay violent hands upon a woman, the officers were considerably perplexed. For more than an hour they stood around and by arguments, attempted to unseat her. Fnnally they tried diplomacy. Although without power to disturb her if she refused to move, Deputy Marshall Gilman was introduced as the arm of the law to arrest the woman unless he vacate. This frightened her young son, who succeeded by his tears and entreaties, in persuading his mother to get down from the seat. The barrel was found to be filled with contraband brandy.

Lena, Martha, Bernard and Thomas N. Anthony and Henry T. Harris were brought to Richmond and bailed for their appearance on January 13 before the United States Commisioner. The officers are still searching for Obie Anthony and Foster.

Jagersfontein, South Africa, Jan. 10.—Twelve white men were wounded, seven natives were killed, and 40 wounded in fierce fighting here today.

The Europeans dispersed the natives.

Taking advantages of the disorganized conditions resulting from the railway strike, 9,000 native laborers attacked the Europeans here and looted some of their homes.

About Ten Miles Away With Nine Thousand Mexican Rebels.

Federals Clash With Rebel Pickets Last Night — Insurrectionists Form a Semi-Circle.

Presidio, Tex., Jan. 10.—Although there was occasional firing during the night, the real assault on Ojinaga by Gen. Pancho Villa and his 9,000 Mexican rebels had not been opened early today. Villa's advance guard was within ten miles of Ojinaga, however and other large bodies of rebels were coming up, evidently completing preparations for a general engagement.

Generals Orozco and Salazar, of the Federal defenders, threw out picekts well in front of Ojinaga and these clashed with rebel pickets during the night.

Daylight today disclosed the rebels in a semi-circle from the Rio Grande on the north, around the city of Ojinaga to the Rio Grande on the south, completely surrounding the city excepting on the American side. Clouds of dust were visible along the Chihuhua road and up the Conchos river, to [illegible] other large bodies of troops, evidently rebel reinforcements.

It is not believed Villa will [illegible] his assault until tonight. [illegible] ticipates a victory, but he [illegible] ing prudence in protecting [illegible] of his advance and preparing treat should that be necessary.

FOUR MEN DROWN.

Cutter of Battleship Wyoming Capsizes Near Old Point.

Norfolk, Va., Jan. 10.—Four sailors of the United States battleship Wyoming lost their lives yesterday by the capsizing of a cutter of the ship. Sixteen sailors were aboard the craft at the time, twelve being rescued by boats which put out from the Wyoming, and by a tug.

The dead are:

Olai K. Olsen, boatswain of the first class, 537 Jefferson street, Portsmouth, Va.

George J. Hugg, ordinary seaman, 23, Thames street, Newport, R. I.

Ernest A. Roth, seaman, 602 Cherry street, Seattle, Wash.

The cutter was carrying a cargo of wheelbarrows from the Wyoming to the collier Proetus, which sails today for Guantanamo, Cuba. Olsen was in command of the boat. About 2 miles off Old Point Comfort, and a half mile from the Wyoming, the cutter encountered unusually heavy seas and began to take water. Suddenly it careened, and with its weight of steel wheelbarrows, was dragged under leaving the men floundering in the water. They battled fiercely against the waves, and two of the sailors became exhausted before they could be rescued.

One of the most remarkable escapes was that of T. H. Quinn, one of the seamen cast into the water. A strong tide carried him seaward. Two miles from the scene of the accident Quinn grabbed a buoy, and was clinging to this when picked up nearly exhausted and rushed to the Wyoming.

The accident occurred near the spot where a launch from the battleship Minnesota went down in 1907 with the loss of eleven lives, mostly young midshipmen returning to the Minnesota in a storm after midnight following a social function at the Jamestown exposition.

TO CONTINUE SERVICES

Union and Overflow Meetings in Methodist Churches Tomorrow

A large audience attended the union evangelical services which were held last night in the First Baptist Church. The sermon was preached by the Rev. D. H. Kern, D. D., presiding elder of the Alexandria district of the Methodist Church South.

There will be no union services tonight, but tomorrow night they will be held in the Washington street Church South, when the sermon will be preached by the Rev. W. F. Watson, D. D., on the subject of "An Awful Possibility." An overflow meeting will be held in the Trinity Methodist Church which will be in charge of the Rev. C. R. Strausburg.

The abundant success which has attended the union services this week has encouraged those in charge to announce that they will be continued next week. All the Protestant Churches except the M. E. Church South and Trinity M. E. Church South will be closed tomorrow night.

These meetings have been helpful not only to members of the different churches of the city, but to many not connected with any denomination. About a third of a century ago it was the custom among ministers in most of the Alexandria Churches to exchange pulpits occasionally, and some churches closed their doors one Sunday night in each month in order that opportunity could be given to hear the ministers of the different churches.

THE DURANT CASE.

The taking of testimony in the case of Oliver Durant who is resisting the payment of taxes in Virginia, alleging that he is a resident of Washington, occupied the attention of the United States Court for the Eastern District of Virginia again today.

CIGARETTES KILL BOY.

Sixteen Year Old Lad Smoked Fifty Coffin Each Day.

New Britain, Conn., Jan. 10.—Cigarettes were sure enough coffin nails for Otto Stinger, 16 years old, who died at the New Britain Hospital, yesterday afternoon, from the effects of excessive indulgence. Dr. John Purney, who attended Stinger, says the boy, who was the sole support of a widowed mother, confessed before he died that he had been averaging 50 cigarettes a day for the past eight or nine months. He smoked several before breakfast, smoked incessantly at his work and in the evening and could not sleep well, unless he had three or four just before he retired.

An examination made when Stinger was brought to the hospital, Wednesday night, revealed that his heart was seriously affected by nicotine poisoning, and the immediate cause of death was degenerating of the heart.

DESERTED WIFE.

Couple Were Married in Alexandria October 27, 1913.

Deserted in less than a month after her marriage to Andrew S. Duvall, a Washington navy yard employe, because she refused to set up housekeeping in a vacant stable belonging to his mother, is the allegation of May M. Duvall in a bill for a partial divorce filed yesterday in the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia by her lawyer, Edward L. Gies.

Mrs. Duvall declares that even that offer was not sincere, as it was done only to make it appear that her husband had not deserted her. Before their marriage, she alleges, her husband told her she could live anywhere she might choose, but when he decided to leave her, he told her, she alleges, that she could live with him in an outbuilding on a lot owned by his mother, saying that they might occupy it, inasmuch as both horse and cow had died and there was no longer any use for the stable. She alleges that the stable contained one room and a loft.

The marriage occurred in Alexandria, Va., October 27, 1913, according to Mrs. Duvall's bill, and the alleged desertion was on November 26, following, when her husband, refused to longer live with her. On December 15, she alleges, he came to where they had been living and got his clothes and personal belongings. At the same time, the bill declares, Duvall notified the landlady and grocer that he would not be responsible for his wife's bills, and also advertised in the daily press that he would not be responsible for credit given her.

When the desertion occurred Mrs. Duvall alleges, her husband gave her $1, and later gave her $2 for herself and adopted son. The day before Thanksgiving, she further asserts, he gave her 5 cents, but insisted that she repay it before bedtime that night.

Mrs. Duvall filed a separate bill as to alimony and a request that she be permitted to begin the suit without prepayment of the usual court cost, which was granted by Justice Stafford. There will be a hearing January 15 as to the temporary alimony.

NEWS OF THE OLD DOMINION

COMMONWEALTH BANK.

Complications Threatened by a Suit Filed in Richmond.

Richmond, Jan. 10.—Complications are threatened in the Commonwealth Bank case by a suit filed in the Chancery Court by Attorney Robert H. Talley, in which it is charged that in receiving deposits after they knew the bank was insolvent the officers of the bank committed fraud. The suit is a chancery matter and in no sense a criminal proceeding.

Those intimate with the affair of the defunct institution declare that it was hoped every hour during the last fatal days that the bank could be saved. If deposits had been refused, they say, a run would have been precipitated, and the result would have gotten all their money at the expense of the others Moreover, it is stated, the bank received deposits with the full knowledge of those empowered by law to prevent it.

The suit instituted by Mr. Talley is at the instance of I. R. Lee, one of the depositors, and Judge Moncure, of the Chancery Court has caused, or will cause, the recevers and former officers of the bank to answer it, an order having been entered to that effect.

Mr. Talley's claim is that after receiving the money, when they knew the bank was on the verge of collapse, the officers became constructive trustee and that the money now held by them to the credit of his client should be refunded with interest

If the contention be upheld it is likely that a large question will be opened, and others who made deposits subsequent to August 18, 1913—the date cited in Attorney Talley's declaration—may file similar claims.

According to the declaration Mr. Lee deposited in the Fulton branch of the Commonwealth Bank a check for $1,350 on August 18th, payable to himself. The check was received by the assistant cashier, the declaration sets forth, and entered upon Mr. Lee's pass-book. The assistant cashier, the record states, was J. E. Harding.

On August 28th—the day before the bank was closed—the petitoner drew a check for $50.75 against his deposit, which was honored. Four days previous a note for $200 had been charged against his account, which, with the check, cut his balance to $1,099.25. Ths amount is now claimed, with interest from August 18, 1913.

DEAD FROM WOUNDS.

Joseph Breeden Said to Have Killed Rockingham Man in a Card Game.

Harrisonburg, Va., Jan. 10.—William (Humpback) Frazier died Thursday at the home of a friend on top of the Blue Ridge, as the result of the fearful gunshot wound he received at the hands of Joseph Breeden Tuesday. He made an ante-mortem statement which is said by friends to show that Frazier was the aggressor in the quarrel which has resulted in the death of the cripple.

Breeden, who is in the Greene county jal, will have a preliminary hearing tomorrow. He claims that the shooting was accidental. He was caught some miles from the scene.

Breeden is a man six feet in height. The men are said to have quarreled over a game of cards. Breeden is alleged to have shot Frazier in a fit of temper.

Miss Delilah Bradley, the pretty 18-year-old Sunday school teacher, of Pemberton, N. J., who eloped to Mobile, Ala., with Joel M. Foster, a wealthy resident of Browns Mills, N. J., declares she loved Foster and will stick to him through thick and thin. "I will not testify against Mr. Foster," she declared with emphasis. "I love him, and I have since I met him, and he loved me dearly. I was happy when I was with him and utterly miserable when we were separated. Mr. Foster has been kind and loyal to me and I will never desert him."

Three persons were killed and 27 injured early yesterday, at Cordele, Ga., when a Georgia Southern and Florida passenger train was wrecked on a trestle 1 mile from that place. A broken rail is said to have caused the accident. Four sleeping coaches and two day coaches were thrown from the trestle to a small creek below.

WED ON PULLMAN CAR.

Unique Marriage Ceremony Performed at Bristol This Week.

Bristol, Va., Jan. 10.—An unique marriage ceremony was performed on board a Pullman car here one day this week when Miss Adelia Knox became the bride of Joseph T. Jarnagin. The young couple were from Cleveland, Tenn. Advance arrangements had been made for a marriage license here, and the Rev. Adolph Kistler, pastor of the Central Presbyterian Church, was called to perform the ceremony. As the young couple could only be married legally in Tennessee, the minister had to wait until the switch engine, in accordance with its nightly custom, pulled the rear cars of train No. 48 back across the State line into Tennessee in order to drop the chair car, which is carried only between Bristol and Chattanooga. The ceremony was performed while the cars were being shifted the minister beginning the moment, the Pullman passed over the State street crossing. The bride and groom left on the same train for their honeymoon journey to Eastern cities.

ARRESTED AS FIREBUG.

F. H. Gully is Charged With Causing Blaze in His Grocery Store.

Petersburg, Va., Jan. 10.—F. H. Gully, proprietor of a fancy grocery store, in Washington street, opposite the Atlantic Coast line station, was arrested Thursday evening on a warrant charging him with arson.

The warrant was sworn out by G. W. Scott, a detective of the State bureau of insurance, who had been in the city for some days investigating the matter of the fire. The accused man promptly engaged the legal firm of Willcox & Willcox to look after his interests and was bailed for his appearance in court in the sum of $500.

Shortly after midnight, about December 15, fire was discovered in the basement of Gully's store, which was fortunately extinguished by the department before serious damage had been done either to the building or stock. Subsequent investigation as to the cause of the fire aroused the suspicion that it had been carefully arranged and planned. A detective from the state bureau of insurance was put to work and his investigation resulted in Mr. Gully's arrest.

WILL INCREASE PENSION.

Senate Finance Committee About Finishes Appropriation Bill.

Richmond, Jan. 10—The rough draft of the general appropriation bill has been completed by the Senate Finance Committee and it has been referred to a subcommittee for "pruning."

The total so far appropriated by the tentative bill is about $6,800,000, which is more than the committee will award to the institutions and the fixed charges of the State.

To make the bill come within the prescribed $6,700,000, the subcommittee is now engaged in trimming it down so that it will fix the revenues.

One of the things which is regarded as settled is an increase of about 25 per cent. for the pension fund, making the total for this purpose close on to $55,000. This, with the pensions which revert or lapse, will be sufficient, in the opinion of the members, to provide the increase named for the old soldiers and their dependents.

Another thing which is a stumbling block is the proposition to reduce the tax rate not less than five cents. This is being considered by the subcommittee. There is division of sentiment on the subject. It is no secret that the matter is one on which there has as yet been no formal vote, but the advocates of the scheme are working with might and main to get the recommendation at the hands of the full committee.

MISSING MAN.

Disappeared From his Home in Lynchburg December 16.

Lynchbrug ,Va., Jan. 10.—That Jesse W. Holloran, the Lynchburg contractor who has been missing since December 16th, is in Norfolk, was the information received by Mrs. Holloran from Chief of Police Kizer. Chief Kizer's letter to Mrs. Holloran stated that he had good reasons to believe that Mr. Holloran was in Norfolk, but so far a thorough search of the boarding houses and hotels had been without success. He stated that the search would be continued, and that as soon as any results were obtained, he would notify Mrs. Holloran immediately.

The newspapers of the state are being asked to aid in the search for the missing Lynchburger, as well as the police and other agencies.

"CAN ANY GOOD THING COME OUT OF NAZARETH?"

This question was propounded nearly ly nineteen hundred years ago when attention was first being attracted to the Great Galilean Teacher. The spirit of the query seems to be in evidence today when a man's enemies are turning him over in order to find some weak point. Reference to the humble origin of men who shine whether they will or not is generally the cruel sneer heard and the place of their birth is also often hurled in their teeth by those jealous of their success.

The famous Captain Cook was born in a mud hut in England. Benjamin Franklin was a juvenile tramp. Lincoln split rails and Garfield drove mules on a canal.

There was some disorder in Scottsville, Albemarle county, Virginia, a few days ago, the aftermath of holiday excesses, and a Richmond paper hostile to Virginia's senior senator and seemingly anxious to say something to the detriment of the popular and able Virginian, in referring to the trouble took occasion to say that Albemarle county is known as having been the birthplace of Thomas S. Martin.

Such an unnecessary observation needs no comment. Truly, a prophet is not without honor save in his own country and among his own kin.

The true man regards the place of his birth as most sacred, and the proper sentiment is expressed in an old sonnet, "The Cot Where I was Born." The celebrated English lexicographer, Samuel Johnson, was wont to make annual visits to Lichfield and stand in the market court at the spot where his father's book stall had been placed in bygone years. With all his notoriety he was not ashamed of the little town. Frank Bangs, a famous actor in his day, made periodical visits to Alexandria, and on such occasions visited a frame house on the east side of Fairfax street, near Wilkes, in which he first saw the light of day. Henry Winter Davis, one of the most brilliant and well-known men in Congress during the civil war, was an Alexandrian. This fact did not obscure his genius.

Senator Martin doubtless has no apologies to make for having been born in Albemarle county and in the old commonwealth of Virginia, and he entertains as much sentiment concerning the place of his birth as those referred to above, and the endearments of the place will not be blurred from the fact that a row occurred in the neighborhood over the discharge of firecrackers on Christmas which seems to have been the cause of the troubling of the waters.

Washington Memorial Lodge of Perfection No. 7, Scottish Rite Masons, held a meeting last night in Masonic Temple.

EX-PRIEST HAPPY WITH WIFE.

Dr. Buel Threatens to Sue Jesuit Order For Libel.

New Haven, Conn., Jan. 10.—Instead of being in a monastery of the Trappist order in Gethsemane, near Bardstown, N. Y., as was published, Dr. David Hillhouse Buel, a former member of the Society of Jesus, known as the Jesuits, and president of the Georgetown University, who in 1912 withdrew from the order and later married Miss Katherine Frances Powers, of Boston, is now a resident of New Haven, and has been living in this city as an instructor since November 1 last.

Instead of being separated from his wife and having put her in a Catholic home, his wife is now and has been living with him right along. Furthermore, Dr. Buel stated very decisively that he not only was not in a monastery now, but that he had no intention of entering any, and that he and his wife were living happily together, as they had done since their marriage on July 13, 1912, and propose to continue to live to the end of their lives.

Dr. Buel declared that he was much surprised at the publications of stories dated from Washington. He felt that there was a malice back of the sending out of the reports, and he sent a telegram to the Rev. A. J. Maass, provincial provost of the New York and Maryland province, demanding a retraction of the publication. Following is the text of the telegram sent to the Rev. A. J. Maass:

"Rev. A. J. Maass, 30 West 10th St., New York City:

"Unless you stop the malicious statements made by members of your organization about my wife and myself, which have been circulated for over a year, I shall bring suit for libel. "D. H. BUEL."

Court of Appeals.

Richmond, Va., Jan. 10.—Argument was concluded before the Supreme Court of Appeals of Virginia yesterday in the case of the Old Dominion Iron and Nail Works against the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company and the City of Richmond. Henry W. Anderson appeared for the appellant and Henry Taylor and H. R. Pollard for the appellees, and the case was submitted.

Argument was also heard in the case of Campbell against Alsop's administrator. W.E. Ennis and St. Geo. R. Fitzhugh appeared for appellants and Mr. Chandler for appellee, and the case was submitted.

There was no session of the court today. Cases in call for Monday are:

No. 29.—Hospital of St. Vincent de Paul against Thompson.

No. 30.—Williams against the Commonwealth at the relation of Smith and others.

No. 31.—Ashby against Roles and others.

No. 32.—Baildwin and Brown (Inc.) against Winfree's administrator and others.

Boy Falls Dead in Match.

Danville, Va., Jan. 10. — Cossie Slayton, a 16-year-old boy, and Jim Talley, a year younger, were boxing on Harrison street at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when Slayton suddenly threw up his hands and fell dead by the curbing. A doctor who arrived quickly declared that the youth had died of heart failure.

Talley was bonded under the sum of $50 to appear in the Mayor's court on Tuesday morning.

The boy's were firm friends and both fond of boxing. They had put on the gloves and gone many rounds together on previous days, and before Talley started boxing with him, Cossie had been sparring with his little brother. Five men who were watching the sport from a distance, upon seeing the boy fall, ran up, but before they got there life was extinct.

GIRL STABBED AND HANGED.

Unidentified Young Woman Dead in Barn And Insane Man Sought.

Chicago, Jan. 10.—The body of an unidentified young woman was found yesterday hanging from the rafters of a deserted barn, on the prairie, southwest of the city. Three small knife wounds were found in her side and the pocketknife with which they apparently were inflicted lay on the floor. The body was well clad and a gold watch on her breast and ring on her finger had not been disturbed. Physicians declared she apparently had been dead for four days.

The place where she was found is not far from the spot where Ida G. Leegson, an art student, was murdered several months ago.

The police renewed their search for a man, believed to be insane, who was reported to have attacked and beaten several women in the neighborhood within a few days.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Literary Society Meets Tonight—Preparing for Examinations.

The meeting of the A. H. S. Literary Socety, which was postponed from the 27th of December, will be held tonight in the school building. The debate will be on a very interesting subject,—that of compulsory education. The subject is "Resolved: that in Virginia all boys and girls over six and under fifteen be compelled to attend school thirty weeks of the year." Miss Sarah Cox and Lawrence Fawcett will uphold the affirmative, and Misses Nina Fulton and Flora Glasgow the negative. Instead of the usual order of declamations, all the boys of the society will be drilled in declaiming, each having to declaim a part of Antony's oration over the dead Caesar. At the meeting of the society to be held on the 17th, all the girls of the society will declaim the Mercy Speech by Portia in "The Merchant of Venice."

A meeting of the class of 1917 was held Tuesday. The committees made their reports and the usual business was transacted.

The pupils returned to school Monday, although all were not over-glad to do so, and commenced the New Year with quiet sub-missiveness to the rules of the school room. All time in "Study Hall," remaining to be served by pupils was marked off and they were allowed to start with a clean sheet for the New Year.

Reading of parallel chapters has been commenced by the Second Year; that is, they are given a certain number of chapters ahead to be read outside of class by a certain time. Then, when they come to these chapters in class, a less amount of time will have to be spent on them.

Time for the intermediate examinations is rapidly drawing nearer. The first "exam" will come on January 26. Pupils, who average below ninety per cent in any subject now had better hustle if they wish to be exempt from taking the examination on it. To be exempt is very desirable as all the teachers have assured the pupils that the examinations will not be easy to stand by any means, some even venturing so far as to say that pupils below ninety now will be very lucky to make a passing grade in them. The second team will begin when the intermediates are over.

The class of '16 have at last received their class pins. The design is very pretty, and those receiving them are, as a whole, satisfied with them.

There are many persons, who say that Latin is a dead language. Its spirit, however, lives to haunt the school boy in his dreams.

The Boys' and Girls' Athletic Associations held meetings Tuesday and Wednesday respectively. Usual business was transacted at both meetings.

Oral compositions and class reports on "Ivanhoe" have been substituted in place of the usual test in the II English class. This method of testing their knowledge of the story and its characters is better liked than a test by the pupils. The Literature classes all have this arrangement now, and seem to find it more favorable.

The Freshmen are through with tests for the last six weeks in this term, and are glad of it. Almost every test was given to them just before the holidays began.

JAPAN TURN EMIGRANTS BACK

Dr. Sato States No Settler Can Get Passport to United States.

New York, Jan. 10.—Japanese emigrants will never become a serious factor in the political or economic life of this country, Mexico, or of any other country of the Western hemisphere, according to Dr. Shosuke Sato, director of the college of agriculture of the Tohuku Imperial University, Saporo, Japan, who is in this country to deliver a series of lectures at universities under the auspices of the Carnegie Federation.

Dr. Sato made the statement while in this city. He said that the great bulk of Japanese emigrants was to Manchuria, Korea, and the more sparsely settled islands of the Japanese archipelago.

"Talk about the Japanese overrunning Mexico or the United States, or any other country of this continent is fact should not be taken seriously," said Sato. "Japanese are not emigrating to the American continent now in great numbers, and they never will do so.

"It is only with abundant proof that he will not settle in the United States that a citizen of Japan can obtain a passport to this country."

YOUR HAIR IS TURNING GREY AND IT MAKES YOU LOOK OLD

This is Not the Time When Old Age is to be Desired

TO KEEP POPULAR KEEP YOUR APPEARANCE OF YOUTH

A young man was surprised to have his application for a position "turned down." He was better equipped for the position than the fellow who got it. He discovered that his grey hairs did the "spoiling" looking. [illegible] the same everywhere. There is no doubt but that grey hair does make a man look old. There is no use waiting another minute—don't lose your position or fail in getting a better one because you are old looking—use Hay's Hair Health now.

Those who are using Hay's Hair Health recommend it to their friends, because it is genuinely good, always restores grey hair to its natural color; destroys dandruff, keeps the scalp clean and healthy. You begin to note the difference at once. The few grey hairs disappear and never return.

Why look old when you are young? [illegible] at once, start using it and see what a difference a few applications make.

JONES PREDICTS WAR.

Declares Our 12,000 Soldiers at Luzerne Can be Bottled up by Japs.

Baltimore, Md., Jan. 10.—"Unless the United States gives independence to the Phillippines war between this country and Japan is inevitable."

Representative William A. Jones, of the First District of Virginia, who is chairman of the House Committee on Insular Affairs and father of the Jones bill, giving freedom to the Filipinos, made this statement here.

"I consider it vitally important to this country," continued Mr. Jones, "as well as to the Phillipinnes, that the Islands be given their independence. If we lose too much time Japan will surely swoop down upon the Philippines, exterminate or bottle up the 12,000 soldiers we have stationed on Luzerne as excuse for the treatment of the Japanese in California.

"We could do nothing else than send our fleet to the Islands to retake them, and Japan would have accomplished what she desired—the luring of the United States naval fighting force into waters where we would be cut off from supplies. And now we are in no fighting condition to attempt such [illegible]ing."

TROUBLE IN THE TRANSVAAL.

Cape Town, Union of South Africa, Jan. 10.—The entire active citizen defense, force of the Transvaal has been called out by proclamation after an urgent meeting of the Cabinet to consider the situation brought about by the railroad strike. This action was taken on the ground that serious disorders were anticipated.

Traffic has been suspended this morning as far south as Klerksdorp, about 120 miles out of Johannesburg. Police are on guard at all the stations.

Johannesburg, Union of South Africa, Jan. 10.—An attempt to blow up a train was made here yesterday by strike sympathizers. The explosive, consisting of three sticks of dynamite, with a detonator attached, was discovered by a foreman as he was inspecting the line between Witpoortje and Luipaardsvlei. A crowded passenger train from Zeerust was due at the time.

The dynamite had been fixed to the track in such a way that [illegible] past [illegible].

MORGAN TO LEAVE SOUTHERN.

End of Voting Trust, Formed in 1902, Believed Near.

New York, Jan. 10.—Rumors current yesterday that the Southern Railway voting trust is soon to be dissolved were characterized in official quarters as at least premature.

A majority of both classes of Southern Railway stock has been held by the trustees—J. P. Morgan, George F. Baker and Charles Lanier—ever since the company's re-organization in 1902. Efforts to terminate the trust were made several years later, but these were successfully opposed by the more important interests. Since then the trustees have several times made known their desire to retire, but have remained at the request of the interests which voted their retention in 1907.

It is known that the Morgan interests and those allied with them have recently contemplated an early dissolution of the trust and negotiations to that end are understood to be in progress. The trustees feel that their mission has been accomplished, and that no reason now exists for the continuance of the trusteeship.

Moreover, the termination of the trust is known to be in keeping with the new policy of J. P. Morgan & Co., several of whose more active partners recently withdrew from some 30 corporations and announced their intention to retire from others early in the course of the year.

DID THE WASHING; WHIPPED.

Marital Troubles of Henpecked Man Aired in Court.

Wilmington, Del., Jan. 10.—Judge Churchman was sympathetic when Wm. A. Coe, was arraigned in the Municipal Court [illegible] by his wife, Mary E. Coe, with breach of peace. He declared that while doing the family washing Thursday his spouse struck him across the [illegible] with his razor strop. "And there I was with my hands in the wash tub," he continued.

"What did you marry me for, Mr. Coe?" shouted the wife. Coe did not answer, and the police told the woman to keep quiet.

The man testified that the trouble [illegible] his 13-year-old daughter. "Hold on there," the woman [illegible] yelled! "Stick to the truth."

The courtroom was in laughter during the colloquy. This developed after the wife had made a formal charge that her husband drank liquor.

Humane Agent Stout said he had arranged to place the daughter of Coe in a home. Judge Churchman thought this would solve the problem and he dismissed the case. As Coe was leaving the court room he exclaimed "No more family washing for me." A look given him by his wife, however, was not in conformity therewith.

SPES TRAIN HORROR AND DIES.

Woman is Unable to Recover at Brink of Man's Fate.

Kane, Pa., Janu. 10.—The killing of Leslie Graham by a Sheffield & Tionesta Valley Railroad train, on Tuesday night at Kellettville, caused death yesterday of Mrs. Harry Shaw.

Mrs. Shaw was an eye-witness of the accident, and the shock unnerved her and caused her death.

SEVERE PUNISHMENT

Of Mrs. Chappell, of Five Years' Standing, Relieved by Cardui.

Mt. Airy, N. C.—Mrs. Sarah M. Chappell of this town, says: "I suffered for five years with womanly troubles, also stomach troubles, and my punishment was more than any one could tell.

I tried most every kind of medicine, but none did me any good.

I read one day about Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I decided to try it. I had suffered much but about six bottles of I was almost cured. It did me more good than all the other medicines I had tried, put together.

My friends began asking me why I looked so well, and I told them about Cardui. Seeing me now taking it, [illegible] to [illegible] suffer from any of the ailments due to womanly trouble, such as headache, backache, sideache, sleeplessness, and that everlastingly tired feeling?

If so, let us urge you to give Cardui a trial. We feel confident it will help you, just as it has a million other women in the past half century.

Begin taking Cardui to-day. You won't regret it. All druggists.

November 3, 1913.

Mr. Frank C. Steward, President,
Steward's Business College.
Dear Sir:

I wish to offer you my hearty congratulations upon the really remarkable success of Steward's Business College. I know of no institution in Washington in the last twenty years that has made such wonderful strides in such a short space of time as your college has. It is possible, however, that when one thoroughly understands your methods that your phenomenal growth will not seem so remarkable, and I believe that as people become to understand it your future growth will be greater than your past and present.

Assuring you of my wishes that my prophecy will come true, I am
Most sincerely yours, R. P. ANDREWS,
